

LA-PM&R QUESTION BREAKDOWN

Each quarter of LA-PM&R will have a different number and type of questions based on your previous performance. This is to enhance your learning and allow you to earn full credit for questions previously missed!

REATTEMPT QUESTIONS:

In Quarter 1, If you answer a question incorrectly, you'll see the same question (reattempt) in the next quarter. If you answer a reattempt question correctly, you will receive full credit for the question – as if you never answered incorrectly at all.

ARTICLE-BASED QUESTIONS:

In Quarter 4, you choose the articles you want to be assessed on according to your interests and practice relevance. You have access to the article before, during, and after seeing the questions. If you answer a question incorrectly, you will have a chance to read a rationale and immediately reattempt answering the question for full credit.
